

PRODUCERS OF “DIRTY JOBS” SEEKING SKILLED HEAVY EQUIPMENT OPERATORS FOR BRAND NEW TV SHOW

The producers of Dirty Jobs (www.pilgrimstudios.com) are looking for the best heavy equipment operators in the business to take on a series of exciting “Big Machine” challenges on a new, unscripted TV show for a major, cable network.

We want to feature men and women who operate construction and heavy equipment (scrapers, trenchers, tractors, loaders, excavators, bulldozers, cranes... you name it!) with extreme precision. If you've got big-time skill and an outsized personality, then you can join our team of on-camera experts to take on a series of exciting challenges in each and every episode.

To apply for the show, email BigMachineCasting@gmail.com with your name, age, phone number, city/state, a recent photo and a brief explanation of why you are perfect for this show.
